Another Growing Season Ends

by Shelley Corey of The Mum Farm

The hours of daylight are becoming fewer, mornings require a light jacket, leaves will soon be falling, our growing season is quickly coming to a close. We all love the fall in Upstate New York. If only it could last for months on end! What a summer we enjoyed! I believe it was almost darn near perfect. Granted, we got off to a slow start, but then came the endless days of sunny, warm weather. Perfect growing weather with beautiful rainfalls of an inch a week. There were days on end that I hardly had to look at my weather apps. I just got up, dressed for a summer day and went out to tend to outdoor chores.

As the days get cooler, its time to think of all the things around the yard that need to be taken care of before winter. Raking leaves, mowing one last time, draining and putting away the garden hoses and watering cans, emptying the clay containers of soil and storing away. Remember to re-use that wonderful potting soil somewhere in the landscape. It’s a perfect amendment to our heavy clay soils.Then we need to put the mower away and get the dreaded snowblower in place. I’m considering making a list, so that each year I can remind myself of everything that needs to be done. Even I have left enough water in a hose to have it burst during the winter, leaving it unusable come spring when I need it!

By now my cherished houseplants that went out to my shady yard for a summer vacation, have made the trip back indoors. I’ve checked over everyone for insects, I’ve washed the outside of all the pots, placed them all on or into nice decorative saucers. I often use beautiful old dishes as a substitute for traditional plant saucers. Reusing what I already have and finding new uses for “old treasures” brings me joy. I always designate one day a week throughout the winter to be my “watering” day. That way I get to check on each one, they rarely require more than watering once a week. And just like watering the outdoor plants, they benefit from a through watering and then allowing to dry out. Water rarely needs to drain through the soil into the saucer, but giving each plant enough to saturate the entire root zone makes for a happy plant.

Now comes the indoor entertaining with family and friends. I look forward to this season almost as much as I do the spring! Cooking the old-fashioned favorites and trying new recipes always brings me joy. Bringing out all the wonderful glassware and serving dishes that have sat idle for over six months.

I hope everyone is able to find joy in the upcoming months, whether it be with others, or simply on your own. I may just snuggle with my one year old lab Bailey and watch the weather outside my windows. But I’m sure you’re going to see me right out in every kind of weather because Bailey wants to be an “outside” dog and we both can use the exercise that getting outside provides.

As this growing season comes to an end, it won’t be long before the gardening catalogs start appearing in our mailboxes and we can start looking over all the pictures we took this year of our plants and containers to get ideas for next season. Remember to smile... another growing season will be here before we know it!

Realistic Fitness Goals

submitted by James LaFountain, All American Fitness Center

THE most influential component in achievement is also the most overlooked and misunderstood. Several years ago, I presented to a group of healthcare professionals and made a statement that what humans can achieve is about 40% genetically predisposed. At the conclusion of my talk, a veteran physician complimented me on the presentation, with one caveat, he believed 50% or more is genetically predisposed. Anyway, the composition of our human genome and the set of genes housed in twenty-three pairs of chromosomes is our physical launching pad for human development. Each chromosome contains several thousand genes (stories). The human body contains about 100 trillion cells that carry out our genetic mission.

Each muscle contains both white (fast twitch) and red (slow twitch) muscle fibers. Other types of fibers are present that tend to take on characteristics based on the type of physical training we do. Tendons, running from a muscle’s origin are attached at different locations on bones. The origin and insertion of muscles determines the efficiency of our body’s lever system.

Nerves run from the brain to each muscle and stimulate varied levels of muscular contractions. Where and how much fat we store is another factor. Leaner individuals possess less excess tissue to carry through physical tasks. Muscle fiber type, origin and insertion of muscles, neuromuscular efficiency and leanness are the primary contributors for our body’s ability to perform. All of these are handed down to us though generations of our ancestors.

World class athletes are first of all, genetically gifted. Because of this gift, results tend to come easier to them than us “normals”. Results fuel the performance flame and position these “genetic freaks” for physical success. I once trained with a friend who frequently ate 2-3 donuts for breakfast, two Big Mac’s for lunch and anything he wanted for dinner. He was 3% body fat, bench pressed 450 pounds and squatted 650 pounds. To say he was genetically gifted was an understatement. On the flip side, another friend followed a Spartan dietary program, worked out much harder than my “gifted” training partner, maxed out on the bench press at 295 pounds and squatted 385 pounds. He was the same weight as the the “gifted” one but sported 15% body fat.

All of this should assist you in setting realistic goals, based on your heredity. Genes, handed down to us are a “non-negotiable. We get what we get! With proper training, following a prudent diet and allowing for adequate recovery, you can become the best possible YOU. A sure recipe for disaster is to compare yourself with others, especially those who are genetically gifted.

Judge Joan Shkane

This is a continuing discussion of Legal Myths and Reality, because an informed citizen is always the most successful citizen:

MYTH: Adults adopted in childhood in New York State may never find information about their birth parents.

REALITY: A birth parent’s right to privacy is more and more taking second place to the child’s right to know. In June, 2019, New York State passed two bills that address this issue. Previously a parent’s right to privacy when giving up a child for adoption was protected from disclosure to anyone. Now a new bill allows an adoptee over age 18 to obtain the long-form birth certificate. This certificate contains the full names and addresses of the birth parents. Adoptees have been seeking such information for many years. Some have spent large sums of money to find this information, often without success. To many adoptees, having the information is more important than ever as science tells us more and more about genetics, such as tendency to a particular illness or disease. In the past, if you have the money, you can obtain this information with the help of private detectives. This bill, still unsigned by the Governor, will allow access to all without the cost of a private detective.

A second bill passed by the Legislature and not yet signed by the Governor is the Preserving Family Bonds Act. This law will apply when parental rights to a child were cut off by court order and a child was permanently removed from the parent’s care. Under this law a Family Court judge can decide whether or not a child can contact the birth parents in such cases. The judge will consider, after proof, if such contact with birth parents may be harmful to the child. However, some studies show that such contact is mostly good for children, depending, among other things, on the age of the children. The hope is that the access may help prevent the child from self-harming, and may give the child access to family medical history. The judge will decide whether the contact would be in the child’s best interest, which is the standard for most important child decisions around the world, not just in the U.S.

MYTH: If one who is injured and successfully sues wins a money judgement, then little further action is required to collect the judgement.

REALITY: From time to time a defendant person or corporation tries to hide assets before, during, or after a lawsuit. They do so in order to avoid having to pay a money judgement to a successful plaintiff. This is especially relevant now when there may be big judgements coming against the Catholic Church or the Boy Scouts, among others. A person who has been sexually abused can now sue the abuser more easily than in the past. A defendant my transfer his/her/its assets to relatives, friends, or others, or may go bankrupt to avoid paying the judgement to the successful plaintiff. Right now a successful plaintiff trying to collect the judgement must prove in court that the defendant’s transfer of assets was done with the purpose of FRAUDULENTLY defeating a judgement. An example of such a claim would be a fatal car accident where the guilty party transfers a house, savings, etc. to a spouse or third party to avoid paying the judgement. In other words, the successful plaintiff must prove what was in the defendant’s mind when the transfer was made. Not so easily done in many circumstances.

The New York State Legislature has passed a bill to assist the plaintiff in collecting the judgement. The Governor has not signed the bill, so it is not yet law, and may not become law. The bill, called the Uniform Voidable Transactions Act, would provide assistance to those seeking to collect a money judgement where assets have been transferred. This law would make collecting the judgement easier.

The New York State Court system has assigned 45 judges in different counties to handle lawsuits that target individuals accused of abuse, including the Catholic Church, the Boy Scouts, certain schools, daycare centers and organizations representing foster care parents. Collecting a judgment where there has been a fraudulent transfer of assets may become less difficult and not as slow as it currently is. Those receiving the fraudulently transferred assets as well as those making the transfer may be subjected to deposition under oath, as well as other procedures to determine if the transfer was fraudulent.

MYTH: The Board of Elections in any particular county is not required to follow mandatory rules.

REALITY: The Board of Elections is composed of workers who have been recommended by the Democrat and Republican parties. No third parties are represented. Some believe that the Boards should be civil service appointments, and not politically appointed. However appointed, each Board is bound by strict laws and regulations. Since the two major parties are equally represented, there are checks and balances. Each person watches every other person! No ballot can even be moved anywhere without a representative from each party accompanying the ballot. It may be appropriate to rehaul some of the rules to bring the Boards into this century. But essentially the checks and balances work well, and, with minor changes, should continue to serve the State well into this century.

Giving attention to legal myths is not wrong. It can be a starting point for developing an interest in the law. However, if legal issues are important in your life, for instance regarding custody of your children or money payable for any reason, it is wise to consult a lawyer who can advise you on the truth of legal myths. This discussion is not intended to render legal advice on specific cases or to express an opinion on any specific case.

New Hartford Central School District
Honors Faculty and Staff for Dedicated Years of Service

Submitted by Robert J. Nole, Superintendent of Schools

Schools have seen plenty of changes in the past 35 years, but for longtime educators such as Sandy D’Onofrio, one thing remains steadfast: the gratitude she feels for the people who have shaped her journey. D’Onofrio was among 58 members of the New Hartford Central School District faculty and staff to be awarded certificates and pins to recognize years of employment during the opening day of school. D’Onofrio was the sole teacher celebrated for reaching the 35 years of service milestone.

D’Onofrio’s gratitude springs from the ability to serve a single district for most of her career, one that allowed her to grow from a classroom teacher to a trusted mentor and leader as director of the New Hartford Teacher Center. She credits her colleagues for both their professionalism and friendship and is grateful to the entire school community. “I am most grateful to the children themselves for opening their hearts and minds and letting me in,” said D’Onofrio. “When I see parents or former students who say ‘Oh, I loved your class,’ little do they know

I am the one whose heart is full of love and gratitude from all the lessons I have learned on this beautiful journey.”

The complete list of faculty and staff honorees include:

35 Years of Service: Sandy D’Onofrio; William Welch; Robert Moore; and Mark Marcoccia

30 Years of Service: Jamie Lawson; Monica Tauroney; and Maryanne Hulser

25 Years of Service: Kevin Bovi; Sheila Grimmer; Lisa Manley; Cheryl Martin; Sandra Towers-Halpin; Raymond Lux; and Sheila Shaheen

20 Years of Service: Michael Amante; Michele Gordon; Susan Hamilton; Alison Keeler; Deanna Lafayette; Joan Loughran; Lisa Meyers; Rebecca Roberts; Anthony Surace; Heather Thomas; Elizabeth Guzski; Robin Kennedy; and Lance Wehrle

15 Years of Service: Patricia Bausch; Susan Ciano; Karen Davis; Kelly DeDominick; Nicole Gerardo; Adrienne Greer; Rachel Knapp; Kacie LaLonde; Sarah Lamb; Theresa Lennon; Susan Massa; Lindsay McDonald; Nicole McKenna; Holly Parker; Wendy Reppel; Judeanne Rockford; Robyn Schmidt; Amber Wagner; Eileen Cougan; Carolyn Lauzon; Frank Marrotta; Gina Pfisterer; Mary Smith; and Robin Wheatley

10 Years of Service: Steven Achen; Richard Alcuri; Scott Gaffney; Lisa Greico; Matthew Miller; and Richard Sherman

The District thanks all of its faculty and staff for their outstanding efforts in providing an excellent educational experience for all of our students.

"We are extremely proud to dedicate this year's Harley-Davidson raffle to the men and women who serve our country," said Rosemary Bonacci, vice president,

Sitrin Foundation & Communications. "Furthermore, the Harley-Davidson brand, synonymous with freedom, represents this precious right which our brave military defends and preserves."

Tickets are $100 each and can be purchased with cash, check, or credit/debit cards. Only 399 tickets will be sold, and are available at the Sitrin Heath Care Center or over the phone at (315) 737-2245.

Looking for a unique birthday present or stocking stuffer? Harley raffle tickets make great presents, too!

The drawing will be held on Friday, December 27, 2019 at noon at the Sitrin Medical Rehabilitation Center. Winning ticketholder need not be present to win.

Proceeds from the raffle will benefit Sitrin's Military Rehabilitation Program, which provides complimentary care to post-9/11 veterans and service members. The program is designed to treat the uniquely specific needs of those who served in the military. Veterans affected by physical, emotional, and cognitive issues receive specialized care based on military, combat, and reintegration experiences. The program focuses on goal-setting, one-on-one treatment, and peer social engagement and has had much success by combining both traditional and non-traditional therapy techniques.

Stanley Theatre Announces We Banjo 3

Irish Gallway/Nashville Crossover Concert With Opener Blarney Rebel Band

Stanley Theatre announced that grassroots, crossover sensation We Banjo 3, one of the most prolific and exciting bands to emerge from Ireland in recent years, will be coming to Stanley Theatre at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, January 11, 2020.

Contrary to the band's name, this Galway/Nashville-based quartet comprises two sets of brothers, Enda & Fergal Scahill and Martin & David Howley, on banjo, fiddle, mandolin, guitar, bodhran, and percussion. Their music is a passionate blend of Americana, bluegrass, Celtic, world music and pop propelled by lead singer David Howley's emotive voice and pitch perfect harmonies from this band of brothers. Their high-energy, audience-engaging live show brings audiences to their feet!

The band's last studio recording, Haven, was released in July of 2018 and spent 3 weeks at #1 on Billboard's Bluegrass chart and received rave reviews from the press.

Glide Magazine stated "There's a lesson to be learned here as well. It's one thing to be astute musicians - which this band assuredly is - but it's quite another thing to be able to craft melodies that are worthy of that articulate approach. Suffice it to say that We Banjo 3 are adept at doing both. An exceptional album, Haven ought to ensure that We Banjo 3 reach the sanctified status they deserve."

RTE Radio 1 (the Irish equivalent to the BBC) named Haven "Folk Album of 2018" at their annual awards show.

On July 19, 2019, We Banjo 3 released a live recording, Roots To Rise Live, on CD and vinyl. Recorded in February of 2019 at The Ark in Ann Arbor, Michigan, Roots To Rise Live features 14 songs and is a mix of original material, traditional compositions and select cover songs, including a surprise in the middle of "Prettiest Little Girl." It also includes two previously unreleased tunes, "Shine On," which is a fan favorite at their live shows and "John Brown's." Roots To Rise Live debuted at #1 on Billboard's Bluegrass Albums Chart week of August 3rd. Haven also reentered the chart the same week in the #5 position.

We Banjo 3 continues to partner with Mental Health America on their Roots To Rise tour to raise funds and awareness for the organization with a donation of $2.00 from the sale of every t-shirt and CD to MHA.

For more information, contact Alexandra Evans at aevans@thestanley.com, or visit www.webanjo3.com.

Stanley Presents moe. New Year's Concerts

Stanley Theatre will be hosting the preeminent progressive rock band moe. on December 30 and 31 at 8:00 p.m. Tickets will go on sale to the Fan Club on Wednesday, September 11, to Stanley Members on Thursday, September 12 and to the public on Friday, September 13.

With 20 years of touring and just as many albums under its belt, the quintet of Al Schnier and Chuck Garvey on guitars and vocals, Rob Derhak on bass and vocals, Jim Loughlin on percussion and vibes, and Vinnie Amico on Drums, continues to push the standard for performance art.

From its humble, inconspicuous beginnings as a local bar band in Buffalo in the late 1980s, to headlining Radio City Music Hall two years straight on New Year's Eve, moe.'s journey has been one of hard work, perseverance, and dedication. Their music is clever, melodic, refined; their performances are entertaining, mesmerizing and epic. There's a reason that Rolling Stone magazine placed Chuck and Al among the top twenty new "guitar gods," why the pair were featured in Guitar World and Modern Guitar; why Jim and Vinnie have been featured in Drum! magazine; why Rob in Bass Player and State of Mind magazines -- all in the same year -- because they're that good! Their two latest efforts, THE CONCH and STICKS & STONES, received rave reviews including Rolling Stone, Paste, and Blender magazine. In honor of their 20th Anniversary, the band released SMASH HITS, VOLUME 1. Billed as a "Young Person's Guide to moe.," the album features band and fan favorites -- some recast in new recordings that showcase the band's ongoing evolution.

moe. was recently inducted into the Buffalo Music Hall of Fame, being recognized not only for the impact they have made in their hometown, but for their charitable work on a national and international level as well. The band raised over $100,000 for various charities, including the Red Cross for Hurricane Katrina survivors and for the music department at Bradley Elementary in Utica, NY, to help keep music in children's lives.

Whether touring across the globe, being featured in music festivals, including Lollapalooza, Bonnaroo, Langerado and Vegoose, or sharing the stage with such celebrated acts as the Allmans, The Who, or Robert Plant, among others, what keeps moe. at the forefront of the music scene is not only the energy and vitality of their music and songwriting, but the showmanship in which it is delivered.

By all accounts, for this "legendary jam band," as Rolling Stone magazine recently described them, it would be best to keep your eyes on this band and your ears tuned in to their music. Witness history in the making.

A Note from 1st Ward Councilman James Messa Dear Residents:

It's amazing that the fall season is upon us and over the past several months a lot has transpired. I would like to take this opportunity to update you on a few items that were accomplished in the 1st Ward.

Grange Hill Storm Water Project

I'm pleased to announce that the final phase of this project has been completed and tested. This was a project that I spearheaded and advocated for as this area had experienced severe flooding over the years. I've had full board support since I introduced the need for this project as it helps businesses and residential homes in Chadwicks. Unfortunately, projects of this magnitude take time to complete and I would like to thank the residents and business owners for their patience and support during the construction phases.

FEMA Project – Oneida St.

The FEMA Project for the demolition of homes, leveling the ground/planting grass and putting in new sidewalks in those sections has been completed. Unfortunately, FEMA does not allow future building on these parcels due to the buyouts so they will remain a grassy area.

Unsafe Buildings

There have been a few structures in the 1st Ward that met the criteria of our new law "Unsafe Building". I was instrumental in the creation of this law. We had two structures demolished, one on Oneida St near the Utica and New Hartford line and one on Irving Ave.

Major Paving Projects

Grange Hill

Snowden Hill

These were two major roads that were in very bad conditions for motorists, school buses and our highway vehicles. They are heavily traveled roads and were becoming a safety issue.

Oneida Street Paving Project (Multi-Year Plan)

I have prepared and presented to the town board during our September 18th meeting a multi-year plan to pave Oneida St over the course of three years. The road measures approximately 3.1 miles and through my proposed plan, we would pave a 1 mile section each year over the course of three years. In my proposal, I would have the paving start where the Town of Paris line meets the Town of New Hartford line in Chadwicks and move towards the Utica line. This road is another heavily traveled road by many as there are a number of residential homes and business properties on that street. I will be contacting our NYS and Oneida County elected officials to see if there are any grants or funding available that can be applied towards this project.

I felt this was a good time to communicate to the residents in the 1st Ward some of the projects that have been completed this past year as well as some future plans and ideas that I will be working on.

Neighborhood Traffic and Speeding

Submitted by Richard Woodland

Shorter days and cooler temperatures mean fall is officially here. It is a good reminder to travel through our neighborhoods safely. Sometimes the town board receives concerns about speed and traffic issues in the neighborhoods. When we receive a concern, they are turned over to the police department. The police department may deploy the radar-speed trailer to encourage residents to comply with the speed limits. The police department may also increase patrols for speed enforcements. If commercial vehicles are speeding and/or not following other traffic laws, then they can call the company and put in a complaint.

Residents may wonder why the town board does not just lower speed limits or put up stop signs since other strategies only provide temporary results. The town does not have the authority to establish speed limits (linear, area, or school zones); this authority rests solely with New York State Department of Transportation. A linear speed limit is one which applies only on a specific road or highway; by state law, no such linear speed limit, other than a school speed zone, may be less than 25 mph. An area speed limit applies to all streets and roads in a specific area; by state laws, area speed limits cannot be less than 30 mph. If the town board were to establish speed limits less than 30 mph, the town would be violating state law and such speed limits could not be enforced.

Speed bumps and speed humps can be used to slow drivers down and increase driver awareness, but they are not without disadvantages. Speed bumps and speed humps may cause damage to vehicles, increase emergency response times, increase traffic noise, and impede snow removal.

There is no strategy that will end speeding in the neighborhoods. Increased police patrols, routine deployment of the radar-speed trailer, and increased signage may reduce speeding and increase driver awareness albeit temporarily. Residents need to be mindful of their speeds as they travel throughout the town. As always, if you have any questions, concerns, or ideas feel free to contact me by phone at 315-982-4936 or email at rwoodland@townofnewhartford.gov.

New Hartford Highway News

Submitted by Highway Superintendent, Richard Sherman

As summer draws to a conclusion I want to thank the many residents that helped us with their brush pickup by placing it at the road. It has been a very busy season with brush starting in the month of April and here we are 6 months later in September. We are winding down on the brush but still will be picking up green waste, dead flowers, and waste from vegetable gardens. I am putting together a pot hole crew that will be using the new machine that was purchased last month. There are a lot of pot holes that need to be filled.

Leaf removal will begin as warranted in the months of October and November. So please get your leaves to the curb-roadside early. Don't wait. If you think you might have a larger than normal leaf pile, please call us and let us know so that we can ensure that the truck is empty so that it can take your entire pile of leaves. Please do not place leaves in plastic bags or containers such as plastic garbage cans. The two new trucks will be out daily and will add an evening shift as necessary to get the leaves picked up in a timely manner. Please do not place articles such as brush, pumpkins, and rocks in with the leaves as the machines impeller fan will be damaged, causing down time on the machine in our busiest season.

Our sewer truck will be out cleaning our sewer lines of grease debris by our restaurant corridors. We want these cleaned going into the winter months. The town still has a few large catch basin repairs this fall that are on our list to be finished along with cleaning catch basins until the winter season arrives.

The town has our engineer designing a new detention pond in the area of Foxcroft and Hubbardton Road area. The Town Highway Department will be working to clear the property, vegetation and building a roadway to the construction site hopefully this fall. On Concord Blvd, there will be a rebuilding of a new Pump Station with new pumps, electrical panel, and a new diesel generator to keep the station running when it loses power. This went out to bid and Beebe Construction Company was low bid for $146,530.00. This will be replaced this fall 2019.

The Chenango Bridge finally went out to bid and Central Paving won the low bid of $320,255.00. The work was started on September 5th and is continuing until finished. This bridge should be open to traffic sometime in early October 2019. If you need to contact me either by phone 315 534-2998 or e-mail rsherman@townofnewhartfordny.gov.

New Hartford Senior Center News

We have been at our new site now for 4 months and are feeling more at home here. We are still without a director, but have been trying to hold many of the programs that our seniors want and are used to. October is always a busy month for us as we hold our annual Health Fair and flu shot clinic. Many health agencies in the area will be here Thursday, Oct.17th from 9-1 and will set up displays of literature and information for our seniors in the community. Price Chopper will also be here for the flu shots. We will have a hot lunch as we do everyday and are all welcome to stay for it. You do have to call by noon the day before to reserve one. Thursday October 24th we will celebrate our 33rd year Anniversary of the senior center with a party. The senior band will entertain us and join us for lunch. We all love to have them come to play for us. Thank you for your past lively performances. The next week will be our Halloween party on the 31st with cider and doughnuts plus a candy treat bag along with lunch. That same day is the senior advisory committee meeting at 10-11 to discuss senior issues. They will all miss Eileen as she was the chairman for many years. I want to thank Tom Howard from Edwards Ambulance who held a class for my staff to update our CPR and AED training. He was most informative and guided us through the class. I also want to thank Dave Geiser's daughter, Robin for our wonderful watermelon "cake" treat she brought to celebrate her dad's birthday. He is one of our seniors who comes in everyday to have lunch with his friends. Our thanks to Annie and Abby, student nurses from St. Elizabeths who volunteered their time to help our seniors and staff during our lunch. They do this as part of their community service, and we were thankful to have them. Thank you also to our OFA outreach worker, Carol Nettleman who is here the first Wednesday of each month and every Friday to hold informal classes on healthy aging, nutrition, home safety, exercise to mention a few. All are welcome to come talk to her and take part in the classes. Noi is here on Mondays doing our aerobic class and Thursday's the chair Zumba class. She is a great asset to our center. Check the calendar for the times. Don't forget that Jeff Glatt plays the keyboard the last Wednesday of each month for our birthday party and Charlie Ernst plays on Tuesdays during our lunch. We do love our music. We have a great bunch of bridge and canasta card players each week. They are always looking for new players. Last but not least I want to thank my staff and volunteers for helping me to keep our seniors happy and well fed and our programs running smoothly. They are such a great help for me and one of them, Barb does pick up her brother and a couple friends to bring in to lunch, so thank you to her for doing this. Come join us for lunch and meet all of these wonderful people.

NHFD Members Participate in Annual 9-11 Memorial Stair Climb

Twenty members of the New Hartford Volunteer Fire Department joined with the over 400 firefighters, EMS and law enforcement personnel to participate in the annual 9-11 Memorial Stair Climb event held at the State Office Building on Sept.7, 2019.

NHFD Members Participate in the Annual Memorial 9-11 Stair Climb

Twenty members of your New Hartford Volunteer Fire Department participated in the annual CNY 9/11 Memorial Stair Climb on September 7. The department has participated in this event since its inception.

Proudly participating this year representing NHFD were: Assistant Chief Richard Alexander, Jr., Lieutenants Jason Stallone and Mark Turnbull and firefighters Dylan Alexander, Tim Barcomb, Robert Cornish, Dylan Evans, Joshua Famolaro, James Franco, Michael Galligano, Jacob Gerson, Brian Mathias, Sean Mahoney, Ken Phelps, Zain Saigol, Mike Scanio, Tim Solan, Ben Toach, Adam Turnbull, and Cody Wilson.

The climb, which is not a race, is a tribute honoring the sacrifices of fallen heroes - both near and far. Fulfilling a promise to “NEVER FORGET” their brothers and sisters who have died in the line of duty, 343 firefighters, 60 law enforcement officers and 9 EMTs, (these numbers represent the firefighters, law enforcement, and EMTs that perished at Ground Zero with the collapse of the Twin Towers on 9/11). Individual emergency personnel climb 110 floors (the height of the former World Trade Center Twin Towers) with most climbers wearing their personal protective equipment. The climbers are sent in by groups and all climbers wear the name and picture of a hero they are climbing in the memory of. Funds raised during the event go to providing an atmosphere that pays tribute to the sacrifice made by climbing because ‘they climbed’. The funds are also used as start up for the following year’s event.

Over 400 firefighters, law enforcement and EMS personnel participated in this year’s Stair Climb, held at the State Office Building on Genesee Street in downtown Utica. Participants, many of whom wore their protective gear and uniforms, “climbed” up and down the staircase which represented the 110 floors that comprised the World Trade Center.

Adirondack Mountain Club Meeting

Our next meeting will be Tuesday October 1st at The First Baptist Church of New Hartford. 7 Oxford Rd. 7PM
Our program speaker will be Joan Hermann. Her topic is "What is that?" which will highlight the interesting phenomenon of nature that we occasionally come across while hiking, boating, XC skiing or snowshoeing. She will answer the questions of many of nature's oddities. This is a must see program!

Joan Hermann is a professional photographer, naturalist, and outdoor educator. Joan is the owner of Essence of Nature, and co-owner of The Art Works in Old Forge.

A group of children participate in educational programs at Thea Bowman House.

Alexandra G. Kogut Memorial Fund Awards Multiple Grants to Community

The Alexandra G. Kogut Memorial Fund was created by Becky and Mark Kogut in honor of their daughter, Alexandra, to support community organizations that share her passion and kindness. Each year, several grants are awarded through this donor-advised fund of The Community Foundation of Herkimer and Oneida Counties, allowing Alexandra's spirit to live on. Funds are raised through annual events, such as the Alex G. Kogut Golf Tournament, as well as community donations. Grants are awarded to programs and organizations that reflect Alexandra's passion, including swimming and her love for children.

The fund has supported the following community organizations through grants:

Center for Family Life and Recovery (CFLR)

A grant in support of the Persons in Need of Supervision (PINS) Diversion Program, a collaborative effort between CFLR staff, Herkimer County Probation Department and Herkimer County Department of Social Services to provide individual and group counseling in Herkimer County to youth and their families who are experiencing emotional difficulties. The PINS and IMPACT programs offered by CFLR work to decrease placement outside of the home, reduce aggression, and improve parenting skills. Funding was provided in memory of Grady Moyer.

City of Utica

The City of Utica offers free swimming lessons to local children during the summer at Addison Miller

Pool in West Utica and Seymour Pool in North Utica. Funds will be used to purchase new safety equipment, including floatation devices and swim boards, as well as for a water safety instructor to oversee the program.

The House of the Good Shepherd

A general support grant made in memory of Josh Zbytniewski.

The Neighborhood Center of Utica

A grant made in memory of Grady Moyer to support The Neighborhood Center's clinical and crisis services for youth, adults and their families.

Thea Bowman House

This grant provided books and supplies for the 2019 Reading Rockets Soaring Summer Program, which served approximately 100 local children. The program aims to improve literacy among elementary children in Herkimer and Oneida counties by focusing on reading, writing and spelling.

YMCA of the Greater Tri-Valley

This grant will provide free swim lessons to 10 children from families that are unable to afford the registration fees.

2019 BSA Leadership Dinner Kick Off Luncheon

The 2019 BSA Leadership Dinner Kick Off Luncheon took place at the Yahnundasis Country Club and began the 49-day countdown until the Leatherstocking Council’s annual celebration of leadership in our community. BSA Community Leadership Awards and the Eagle Scout Community Service Project of the Year will be awarded at the Delta Hotel by Marriott in downtown Utica, NY on October 9, 2019.

Mohawk Valley Community College President Randall VanWagoner will receive the 2019 BSA Community Leadership Award for Public Service and Larry Bull, President and CEO of Bull Brothers, Inc. and Co-founder of Fastrac Markets will receive the 2019 BSA Community Leadership Award for Business. Each was greeted today by BSA Leadership Dinner organizing committee members as well as Alicia Dicks, President and CEO of the Community Foundation of Herkimer & Oneida Counties, Inc, who will deliver our keynote address at the Leadership Dinner.

Sam Berardino of The Sound Path Group at Morgan Stanley, our 2019 Leadership Dinner Co-Chairman, welcomed everyone and gave a nice overview of the event and a meaningful description of the Community Leadership Award – and the significance both have for the Scouting families in our community.

BSA Leatherstocking Scout Executive/CEO Ray Eschenbach congratulated our honorees and provided everyone with a Scouting update, including the close of a very successful summer camping season.

BSA Leatherstocking Council Executive Board President Matt Dziedzic highlighted the Council’s achievements. Notably, he recognized Dr. Frank Dubeck, Chairman of the Leatherstocking Council’s 2019 Friends of Scouting Campaign for being recognized last week in Dallas for its 4th place rank over 256 other BSA councils in the world for its overall percentage increase in fundraising over last year. The 5th place finish was the BSA council in Okinawa, Japan!

Rev. Darcey Laine
In the Anglo-Saxon tradition, each person has a wyrd, a destiny that flows like a creek in its bed. Does Universalism have a wyrd? Does this congregation have a wyrd? If so, how can we discern it and embrace it’s flow? What is the path that only we can follow?

Who’s in? If it is possible to belong to any given community or group, someone invariably is left out. We as Unitarian Universalists put forth an intention to be all-inclusive. And, yet, we fall short. What can we make of this? We will also welcome new members during this service.

Financial Windfall? Consider These 6 Actions First

If you recently came into a substantial amount of money, you might be tempted to start spending that financial windfall right away. But whether the money is from an inheritance, the sale of a business, life insurance proceeds, a major bonus, or some other means, you should consider the long-term consequences (and potential benefits) before you start spending, says Kyle Fuehne, a Financial Planning Consultant with Wells Fargo Advisors.

“Often, people don’t spend enough time thinking through what they want to do,” Fuehne says. “They just jump in and start spending. But the money always goes quicker than you expect.”

Fuehne offers this advice on making sure you’re getting the most out of your financial windfall.

- Consider the tax implications. Fuehne recommends consulting a certified public accountant or tax specialist to learn the steps you should take to help minimize the potential tax burden of your windfall. Laws governing inheritance tax vary by state, for example. Different types of assets have different tax implications, and your tax rate will depend on what kind of windfall you received and where you received it.
- Consider stashing it somewhere smart for the short term. Consider placing your cash somewhere stable, such as in a money market account or even a short-term CD, which offer better returns than most savings accounts.
- Consider investing, even slowly. “It’s okay if it takes one or two years to invest it all,” Fuehne says. “Investing slowly over time can allow you to implement a dollar-cost averaging strategy, which is an investment technique designed to help protect against a big downturn.”
- List your goals and priorities. You may have an immediate need or wish, such as paying for a child’s wedding or paying off a college loan. But consider how that will impact future financial needs. Would you be better off paying off your mortgage, for example? Could this impact your ability to retire early? Do you want to start a business? You may want to talk to a financial advisor about these short- and long-term goals and how the windfall fits into your overall plan. You can even ask to run tests of your plan in different market environments to gauge its effectiveness.
- Update your estate planning and gifting plans. If you want to share your wealth with loved ones, you can give someone up to $15,000 a year without paying gift tax under current law. Also consider updating your estate plan. Setting up a trust is probably the best way to provide for your family and control what happens to your assets after you die. An estate planning attorney can advise you about the different types of trusts and help you choose the best one for your family.

Consider alternative ways to give to charity. When considering the tax impact of your windfall, you may want to give appreciated stocks or concentrated equity positions to be more tax efficient versus donating directly, Fuehne says.

Two additional options:

- A donor-advised fund, which gives you a tax deduction now but lets you make a long-term impact.
- A charitable remainder trust lets you make a donation to the trust, and then it would make monthly payments to you. After a specified time or at your passing, the remaining assets in the trust would go to a charitable beneficiary.

Wells Fargo Advisors is not a tax or legal advisor.

A periodic investment plan such as dollar cost averaging does not assure a profit or protect against a loss in declining markets.
