Local Musician Selected By Atkins To Open His June Show At The Stanley Theatre

Local musician and country artist Isaac French has been selected to open for country star Rodney Atkins as he takes the stage at The Stanley Theatre on June 20th at 7:30 P.M.

The Vermont native turned New Yorker's ability to weave heartfelt and relatable subject matter into soulful, melodic pop-folk tunes has made him a favorite in tap rooms, clubs, and restaurants from the Green Mountains to Adirondack's and beyond.

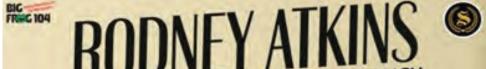

Since releasing his debut album Human Being in 2019, French has continued to hone his craft and sound. Drawing from an array of ever-evolving life experiences including love, loss, and fatherhood. Tracks such as "Brightside" and recently released "Delaney's Song (By Your Side)" showcase a softer, more sensitive side of the singer/songwriter.

His 2023 single, "Drunk when I Wake Up" was nominated for a Syracuse Area Music Award (SAMMY) for "Best Single", and was awarded the number one song for 2023 on 95x's Local Spotlight.

French's instantaneously catchy hooks and relatable lyricism garnered him the title of Vermont's "Best Pop Artist" in 2019, and has put him on stages with the likes of Danielle Bradbury, Grace Potter's Grand Point North Festival and Twiddle's Tumbledown Festival.

French is more than just a musician and a songwriter. He is a father; a husband; a friend; and everything in between.

Tickets are on sale now and start at $41.50 including fees. Tickets are available in person or by phone at The Stanley Theatre Box Office (315-724-4000) or online at https://www.ticketmaster.com/event/00006073F0AA5469.

Beat The Heat ~ Keeping Your Dog Cool During Hot Weather

This article was researched and written by Elizabeth Cordeiro as part of her Girl Scout Gold Award Project. The information in the article was reviewed by a local veterinarian.

Suggestions on How to Keep Your Dog Cool:

Make sure your dog has enough water. Provide water stations in both your home and yard. Dogs regulate their body temperatures by panting, resting, and drinking water. Keep their water bowls full of cool, clean water.

Provide lots of shade for your dog. You may have trees in your yard that provide shade. If not, portable sunshades, tarps, patio umbrellas, and pop-up canopies are perfect to create shade. Some pop-up canopies even come with a misting system.

Keep your house cool. Don't turn off the AC when you leave the house. Your home's interior temperature can rise quickly on a hot day. If you don't have AC, you can place fans to create a cross breeze.

Walking your dog. If possible, walk your dog in the morning or evening to avoid the peak temperatures of the day. Bring water along and stop to rest in shaded areas if necessary.

Keep your dog at a healthy weight. Overweight dogs have a harder time staying cool during warm weather and are at a greater risk of becoming overheated.

Regularly brush your dog's coat. To keep your dog regularly groomed during warm weather is important. Brushing your dog will help remove any matted fur close to the skin, to allow proper airflow. In addition, it is important to make sure that your dog's coat is clean and their skin is healthy.

Sunscreen for dogs. Dogs can sunburn and get skin cancer too. UV-blocking clothes and sunscreen are available for dogs. This is especially important if your dog has a thin or non-existent coat.

Water fun for dogs. Small durable pools filled with fresh cool water each morning and shaded during the day can offer relief during warm weather. Oscillating yard sprinklers and hose sprays are other suggestions.

Be Aware:

Spark your child's curiosity and creativity with our all-new Camp Invention® program, Illuminate! At MVCC from 7/15 to 7/18, campers in grades K-6 will collaborate with friends to take on fun, hands-on STEM challenges. From designing a light-up ball game to tackling global water challenges to starring in a prototyping game show, each experience adds up to an imagination-stretching, confidence-boosting summer.

For more information contact Kathy Donovan, Camp Director at campinventrocks@gmail.com

Some breeds of dogs are more prone to heat exhaustion than others. Shorter-nosed and flat-faced (brachycephalic) dogs such as Bulldogs, Pugs, Boston Terriers, Shih Tzus, and Boxers are more sensitive to heat due to their anatomy. Other dogs that are at an increased risk for overheating are dogs with thick heavy coats, overweight dogs, or the very old or young.

While dogs sweat through their paw pads, panting is the main way a dog regulates their body temperature. Because dogs primarily pant rather than sweat, they are more likely to be sensitive to heat than humans. As a reminder, when it is humid outside, panting is less efficient.

Keep in Mind:

During warmer months never leave your dog alone inside a parked car, not even with the windows down and the car parked in the shade. On an 80-degree day, a parked car's temperature can reach 100 degrees within 10 minutes.

Avoid walking your dog during the hottest hours of the day. When the air temperature outside is 77 degrees, the asphalt temperature can be as high as 125 degrees. Tip: If it's too hot for your bare feet, it is too hot for their paws.

If your dog uses an outdoor doghouse during the warmer months, it is best to place it in a shady location, slightly elevate it off the ground, and make sure it is well vented. Insulation will also help to keep it cooler in the heat.

Some signs of heat exhaustion for a dog are panting faster than normal, drooling, deep red sticky gums, warm to touch, quiet or poorly responsive.

Stanley Theatre Series

Malio Cardarelli

Over the next several months, we would like to share some of Malio Cardarelli's descriptions of artists who have appeared at the Stanley Theater. Aretha Franklin 1942-2018

Singer, Song Writer

Aretha Franklin was born on March 25, 1942 in Memphis Tennessee. Known as the Queen of Soul, Aretha found considerable success in her early recordings of tunes such as Respect, Think, Chain of Fools, You Make me Feel Like a Natural Woman, I Never Loved a Man the Way I Love You, all recorded as early as beginning in the 1960s for Atlantic Records. Interestingly and out of character for her, in 1986 she won international acclaim singing the famous and difficult aria Nessun Dorma filling in for Luciano Pavaroti who had cancelled his appearance at the Grammy Awards. It would not be possible to list her multitude of hit songs in this brief coverage; however, they were many and will long be played and remembered. Also impossible would be to record her many outstanding performances such as her 2015 Natural Woman appearance at the Kennedy Center Honors, and singing at the inauguration of President Barrack Obama in 2009. Her list of awards would be equally impressive, as would be her activities as a civil rights activist. The much acclaimed singer appeared on the Stanley Theater stage in September 2008. She died on August 16, 2018 in her home in Detroit at age 76.

New Hartford Citizens' Band "And the Band Plays on"

Featured in the photo above is the New Hartford Citizens' Band in 1929, standing in front of Butler Hall. The band was first formed in the spring of 1913 when Professor Francis A. Myers and about 30 local musicians started a village band to perform concerts and march in parades. Through the years, the band has become widely known throughout the area and still continues to carry on the tradition of providing great music, fun and entertainment for the whole family. This year, the band's 109th, the New Hartford Citizens' Band continues to perform under the leadership of Mike DiMeo, who has been the director since 1976. Over the years, the band has performed in many locations in the village: Butler Hall, the front steps of the New Hartford High School and its current location at the New Hartford Village Park.

Please see the schedule for practices and performances to the right.

The New Hartford Citizens' Band and its talented musicians do their share to make New Hartford a wonderful place to live and are able to do so because of the hundreds of people who support them. If you or your company would like to support the band this year, more information can be obtained on Facebook at New Hartford Citizens' Band.

This exciting adventure, aptly named the "Madd Hatter Tea Room Train," offers a 2-hour round trip that will captivate the imaginations of both young and old. This special train is schedule for one day only, Saturday June 8th at 2pm.

The "Madd Hatter Tea Room Train" is your ticket to an extraordinary adventure inspired by the beloved tale of Alice in Wonderland. Passengers are encouraged to dress as their favorite characters from the story, with rabbit ears welcomed but not mandatory.

As the train weaves through the breathtaking landscapes of upstate New York, guests will be treated to a variety of fine teas, coupled with an array of delicious finger sandwiches and treats served in the style of a classic tearoom. This immersive experience ensures a delightful escape into a land of fantasy, all while enjoying the real-world beauty of the Adirondack wilderness.

In addition to the tea and treats, a selection of additional beverages will be available for purchase. Whether you prefer a soft drink to accompany your afternoon tea or something a bit stronger, we have you covered. Our goal is to make your trip down the rabbit hole as enjoyable as possible.

An Adults only Tea Time train will run concurrently to the Madd Hatter Tea Room Train. The Adult only event invites tea enthusiasts and adventure seekers alike for an extraordinary experience combining the elegance of a traditional afternoon tea with the unparalleled charm of a train ride through the picturesque country side.

Guests will have the rare opportunity to step aboard a beautifully restored 1950's Dome Car, where they will be transported not just through the Adirondacks but back to a time of genuine simplicity and refinement. The traditional Afternoon Tea includes a variety of teas from Harney & Sons Fine Teas, followed by a selection of delicious sandwiches and mouthwatering treats and deserts.

Experience Counts

by Shelley Corey of The Mum Farm

Call me old-fashioned, but I truly believe that no matter how much you read or see on the internet, books or television, there is nothing better than experience for growing plants.

Growing this year's crop is where experience sure did come into play. With so many days without sun, I had to think like a plant. I knew from experience that my plants would not want to be fertilized on a cloudy day. I can heat and cool my greenhouses, but I do not have any lights in them and rely entirely on mother nature for sunlight. I also do not want to water on cloudy days, because I don't want the plants going through the night with damp leaves. That's an invitation for fungus and disease to start....yikes! Better to grow healthy strong plants that don't require any chemicals than to try to control problems.

I've told you in the past that healthy, strong plants are better able to ward off pests, yet another reason to keep those plants healthy. Insects often attack the weak plants first.

You might be wondering where I am going with this...experience with growing plants requires working with the weather! You want to fertilize on a beautiful sunny day so that the fertilizer solution gets taken up by the roots that day, rather than on a cloudy day when the plant is not requiring water. You want to fertilize when the plant needs it and not right before a rainy day when the fertilizer will just get diluted or worse yet, run right out the bottom of the pot and be wasted.

Best Gifts in the World!

Slow-release fertilizers mixed into your soil or top-dressed after planting help solve the "when to fertilize dilemma". These fertilizers only release when the soil temps are right and slowly over a period of time, usually 3 months. They are an excellent backup plan for most of us who plant containers. When I plant custom containers for my customers, I always add some as back-up and ask the customer to fertilize with a liquid fertilizer once every two weeks. If you planted your pots and didn't add the slow-release fertilizer, I recommend fertilizing once a week with a soluble fertilizer mixed with water. When you fertilize with that solution, that counts as a watering. You shouldn't water with clear water and then fertilize, soluble fertilizer mixed with the water counts as watering and fertilizing for that day! Don't think of fertilizing as a chore, it's just a watering day that you "feed" your plants! The results will astound you. You'll have containers and beds that are magazine worthy! Rewarding you with the best display of flowers that you have ever had!

I truly hope sharing my experience with you helps in your horticultural journey. Let's all grow the best displays of annuals ever! Won't that make us all smile?

Purposeful Exercise

submitted by Jim LaFountain, All American Fitness Center

Recently, I've adopted a new hobby. Of course, it involves exercise, and a review of a variety of sources, from television, to the internet and printed material. I train over 40 clients, at least twice weekly, ranging from young teenagers to 90+ year olds. Each have unique and specific needs that must be addressed in each 30 minute session. A generic, "cookie cutter" approach to addressing each of their specific fitness needs will lack purpose and simply not be worth their time and effort.

As I peruse each workout, I see a variety of equipment, used in different ways, claiming to produce remarkable results in record time. I've seen 65 year old, over weight women performing ladder drills that involve propelling their body through the air and jarring into an unforgiving, single foot landing. Why, what's the purpose? I've also watched frail, 80 year olds doing a class that involved the throwing of heavy objects through a range of motion. About 2/3 of the exercise class participants surrender to extended rest every couple minutes. Why, what's the purpose?

It's a mistake to organize a workout based on trendy equipment or "quick fix" solutions. Some considerations include:

*Age: joint integrity is a primary concern for the young person and aged adult. Immature joints in the young and damaged joints in older adults require special attention. Jarring movements, using heavy weights is a recipe for disaster. Age appropriate cardio is also a consideration.

*Physical Challenges: cardiac, pulmonary and orthopedic considerations are critical to safe and effective programming. Generic, one size fits all, programming is a critical and dangerous mistake.

*Personal Goals: this is where "specificity" is the most critical element in exercise prescription. As mentioned, a 65 year old, overweight women has no business performing ladder drills. It's unsafe and does little to create a caloric deficit that would promote a reduction in stored body fat. Each workout needs to have a purpose.

Cardiovascular Workout Purpose

High Intensity: this session includes rhythmic movements, involving large muscles groups, at a heart rate of 80-90 of its maximum for at least 20 minutes. The purpose of this workout is to strengthen the left ventricular wall, that's responsible for delivering oxygenated blood to working muscles.

Low Intensity: the purpose of these workouts is to stimulate the body's peripheral vessels, away from the heart and aid in the body's recovery from a High Intensity workout. 50-65 % of one's maximum heart rate will serve a specific purpose.

Rest: I raise a lot of eyebrows when I make this statement, "exercise does little to 'produce' growth and physical improvement, only rest and recovery produces improvement."

Resistance Training Workout Purpose

High Intensity: this workout involves taking each set to momentary muscular failure. Repetitions preceding momentary muscular failure serve as warm-up or precursor to the most valuable, last rep, performed using good form (two seconds moving the weight from the starting position through a full range of motion, followed by a one second pause to stop momentum, then taking four seconds to lower the weight to its starting position)

Low Intensity: Each set needs to fall short of momentary muscular failure. The purpose of this type of workout is to allow the body to recover from a previous high intensity workout. Oxygenated blood pumped into microscopic damage to muscle tissue aids in healing and recovery.

Active Rest: this workout is done at a super low intensity to allow the body to recover from previous high intensity sessions.

Evening Hours	Available

Rest: this requires a complete day or days without exercise. This type of recovery is necessary if your resting pulse is seven or more beats per minute above normal.

Long term fitness results are hinged on purposeful workouts. Simply going through the motions without a specific purpose is a recipe for failure.

GETTING BACK ON TRACK - BOILERMAKER SEASON IS UPON US

Embarking on the journey of training for a road race involves more than just lacing up your running shoes and hitting the pavement. It requires a holistic approach to fitness and well-being. Physical therapy emerges as a crucial component in this process, offering runners valuable tools to enhance performance, prevent injuries, and optimize overall health.

One of the primary benefits of integrating physical therapy into your road race training regimen is injury prevention. Physical therapists are experts in identifying imbalances, weaknesses, and movement patterns that may predispose runners to injuries. By addressing these issues through targeted exercises and interventions, physical therapy helps create a strong foundation for the body to withstand the demands of intense training.

Moreover, physical therapists play a pivotal role in rehabilitating injuries that may arise during training. Whether it's addressing common running injuries like shin splints or managing more complex issues such as muscle strains or joint problems, a personalized rehabilitation plan can expedite recovery and get runners back on track.

Physical therapy goes beyond injury prevention and treatment; it also focuses on improving performance to optimize maximum efficiency. Through targeted exercises and stretching routines, physical therapy can help runners develop a strong core, stable hips, and balanced muscle strength, all of which contribute to a smoother and more efficient running gait.

Beyond injury prevention and rehabilitation, physical therapy offers a personalized approach to training, focusing on optimizing biomechanics, enhancing performance, and fostering mental resilience. By working in tandem with a skilled physical therapist, runners can navigate their training journey with confidence, ultimately crossing the finish line stronger and healthier!

New Hartford 2020 Graduate, Jessie Magno, Recipient of Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence

The Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence acknowledges students who have received recognition for distinguished achievements. It is the highest honor bestowed upon a student by the University. This year, 193 students from 62 campuses received this award. Nominations are sought for students who have best demonstrated the integration of SUNY excellence within many aspects of their lives, including academics, leadership, diversity, equity, inclusion & justice, campus involvement, community service, research & development, and the arts (creative or performing).

Jessie Magno was one of two students chosen from the SUNY Cobleskill campus. Dr. John B. King, Chancellor and SUNY Cobleskill's president, Marion A. Terenzio, PhD gave this award to Jessie on April 11, 2024, during the ceremony that took place at the Albany Capital Center in downtown Albany, NY.

In a letter from Chancellor King, he stated, "I am continuously inspired by you. Engaging with you, learning about your motivations for choosing SUNY and the remarkable journey that have brought you here, and seeing you find your truest selves on our campuses has been a privilege beyond measure.

...we've come together today to celebrate students who embody the very essence of SUNY-students whose future hold tremendous promise. These are the dreamers the innovators, the creators, and the achievers. They exemplify perseverance and have shown time and again that their potential knows no bounds.

It is with deep admiration that I commend you all for your work to elevate your communities, inspire your peers, and shape a better tomorrow. Witnessing your growth and impact as not just SUNY students, but as good citizens, fills me with immense pride."

As an awardee, see below some of Jessie's accomplishments while earning her Bachelor of Technology degree in Wildlife Management and her Associate in Applied Science degree in Fisheries and Wildlife during her four years at SUNY Cobleskill.

Sitrin Gan Kavod resident Austin parlayed his volunteer position at the Humane Society of Rome - and his love for animals - into a paying job.

Working with Man's Best Friend(s)

Sitrin Gan Kavod Resident Finds Perfect Job at Humane Society of Rome Just the right fit. That's what Austin Ramocki feels about his job at the Humane Society of Rome.

Ramocki, 28, lives in one of Sitrin's six Gan Kavod residences - homes with 24-hour care for persons with developmental disabilities. Since April of 2020, Austin has been under Sitrin's care, all the while showing the world what persons with disabilities can do.

Austin began volunteering at the Humane Society of Rome (HSR) in January 2023; they liked his work so much that they hired him. A kennel attendant, he works closely with kennel manager Erin Schivas in the daily care of the dogs – power washing the kennels, walking the dogs, making sure that water and food bowls get properly sanitized, and much more.

He also performs other duties as needed, including filling in at one of the society's cat rooms. He refers to the HSR's residents as "our babies," and loves and treats them as such.

"I never met a dog I didn't like," Austin says. "When I first came here, I knew that this was the right place for me." While he loves them all, he does have a few favorites - among them Pork Chop, Truce, King, and Skye.

While it's difficult to see these "babies" walk out the door with adopters, it's easier knowing that they will begin a new life, Schivas says.

"We love to hear how they are doing in their new homes," she says.

Shelter manager Robin Genovese-Kaminski says that in addition to being a good worker, Austin is a wonderful communicator. The staff calls each other via walkie-talkie, and Robin can always count on Austin to answer.

"If I need another staff member, he will find them for me," she says. "He never ignores my calls, and always volunteers to help."

It's a very busy place, as the staff may care for as many as 100 homeless pets at one time. Austin came to Utica with his mother about five years ago, but his mom needed nursing home care until she passed away. Originally from Florida, he has a few family members, spread out among the southern states. The mission of Gan Kavod, says program director Lisa Frank, is to support people of all abilities, ethnicities, and genders in having a quality life and becoming an integral part of society. And Austin exemplifies this, Frank says.

rehabilitation (inpatient and outpatient), long-term care, assisted living and enriched housing (Cedarbook), NeuroCare, residential care for people with intellectual disabilities and medically complex conditions, medical and social model adult day program, military program, adaptive sports, (STARS Program), a Wellness and Aquatic Center, orthopedic injury program, concussion management, child care, and dental clinic.

Genesis Group Drone Education Program

By Maria Smith, Co-Chair

Starting its third season, The Genesis Group Drone Education Program, provides more-than-basic, handson drone instruction to area teachers and their students in fourth through 12th grades and to adults seeking knowledge and skill with drone technologies. Single or multi-day camps enable participants to improve their manual flight skills or learn to fly for the first time. Drone safety, building & repair, programming, the science of flight, and Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) rules of the airspace are components of the curriculum that "launch" participants into the world of this engaging technology. Genesis Drones has hosted single- and multi-day camps with area schools for its students and teachers and camps for adults wishing to explore the potential of drone technology.

Presentations are provided by professionals utilizing drone technologies in their work, many from the Mohawk Valley "drone corridor". Instructors for Genesis Drones include experts in various drone technologies, such as drone building, drone racing, and 3-D printing. They are professional educators and/or FAA Part 107 licensed UAS pilots.

"Genesis Drones" Co-chairs, Jeff and Maria Smith, have many years' experience in drone education, having conducted dozens of camps for schools and organizations in Herkimer, Oneida, Madison, Onondaga, and Oswego Counties.

The goal of the Genesis Group Drone Education Program is to introduce students and interested adults to drone technologies, support teachers in the use of drones for educational purposes, and make participants aware of drone innovations and opportunities within the Mohawk Valley and Central New York.

NEW HARTFORD HISTORICAL SOCIETY

This photograph, taken in 1873 or 1874, shows a group of men and women who were employed at the Woolen Mill.

Woolen Mill Washington Mills

The old Woolen Mill in Washington Mills employed about 200 and was one of about 13 or 14 owned by a New Yorker, Alexander Turney Stewart (1803-1876).

Men's woolen underwear was the chief output. Hours were from 6:30 mornings to 6:30 at night. The big day for the mill folk was Saturday when they got out a 5pm, considered a pretty remarkable concession in those days. At the time, people took a different attitude toward long hours. The mill folk were a cheerful lot. The mill was their life and they took pride in it and in their work.

The women wore white aprons that were always spotless and crisply ironed. In the Winter, the women came to work across the fields and through the streets of the village wearing voluminous cloaks and a woolly head-covering known as a 'nubia'. Every village woman possessed at least one 'nubia', usually brightly colored. In the Summer they wore gingham dresses and Shaker sunbonnets.

The old mill went out of business in 1876 and stood idle until 1879 when it was reopened to run for about a year. Then it shut down for good. Not long after that, the buildings, with the exception of the office (the small structure in the foreground), were torn down and the material taken to Chadwicks, where it was used to build houses for mill employees of that town.

The accompanying map of Washington Mills is from the 1874 Oneida County Atlas and you can see the properties listed under "A.T.S." for Alexander Turney Stewart. Downstream from the 4-corners are some indications of other structures but they are not well marked. We recently had an inquiry via our Facebook page regarding an old foundation visible along the creek in the area across from Chestnut Hills. Their purpose and ownership are still a mystery.

Brighten Up Your Gook With Summer Highlights

Richard Sherman

New Hartford Highway News

from Highway Superintendent Richard Sherman

June will be a busy month for your Highway crew, with several projects underway. Our work continues with the ongoing Roman Road storm water project detention ponds. We are cleaning out ditches and getting ready for paving on upper Mallory Road, as well as several other roads. Our 2024 street paving jobs are going out to bid for the summer and soon we'll be providing a list of the streets to be paved. We are beginning to survey Chadwicks and will be speaking with homeowners in that area shortly, concerning the upcoming work that we'll be starting on sidewalks and roads, along with new landscaping.

There are many upgrades happening at Sherrillbrook Park, including storm water drainage and improvements to the dog park. The Washington Mills Athletic Park will be closed to the public this summer, as it undergoes many improvements to the fields and facilities. Work continues at the Veteran Memorial Park, with newly installed stamped concrete, LED lights and the installation of a new water fountain. Our Highway Crew are again putting up Memorial banners along Oneida Street, Oxford Road and at the Veteran's Memorial Park to honor our brave Veterans. These banners will fly proudly through Veterans Day.

We are in full swing with our Curbside Brush Collection. We understand that because of all the rain, people are mowing their lawns more frequently. It is very important that you containerize your loose green waste items (grass, hedge clippings, flowers and small piles of branches). Please follow the guidelines outlined in the brochure that was mailed to each resident. If you didn't receive a brochure, you can call our office to receive a copy, or you can find it on our website.

We have begun mowing the town and county road shoulders and rights-of-ways. Please use caution when you see the mowing ahead signs out.

Your Highway Department will be hosting the very popular "Touch the Truck" event once again this year on June 15th, at our New Hartford Public Library, with several pieces of highway equipment for kids to see and sit behind the wheel. Hard hats will be handed out to the kids by Highway Superintendent, Richard Sherman and Foreman, Chris Moran. Hope to see you there – come rain or shine!

If you have any questions or concerns, please call me at the Highway office (315) 733-7500, personally at (315) 534-2998 or e-mail me at rsherman@townofnewhartfordny. gov.

New Hartford Rotary News

The New Hartford Rotary Club was hard at work on April 24th, cleaning up all of the debris that was thrown or blown onto the Town of New Hartford Veterans Memorial Park since last November, when the club last cleaned the park for Veterans Day. This event is for our commitment to the NYS Adopt-a-Highway program, which the club now does 3-times a year. Mother Nature was most cooperative for this hardy crew, who came prepared to clean the park in any kind of weather that she may have provided. She was very kind to us and actually held off the rain and wind during the 45 minutes it took the club to clean and groom the park. The club wanted to attack the park before the town lawn mowers had a chance to run over the debris and chop it up into little pieces, thus, making our clean-up effort easier. We will be back at the park again on Wednesday, May 22nd, to clean up all of the debris that the April and May winds will blow on it, so as to spruce the park up for the Memorial Day celebrations on Monday, May 27th. And, we had a very special surprise that day! Our Rotary Youth Exchange (RYE) student from 2017-2018, Lynn Butenhoff of Germany, was in town visiting her prior host families and friends and joined us for the clean-up effort. The cleaning crew shown in the photograph are (from left to right) Chuck Tomaselli, Jan Wilson (Sauquoit Rotary), Anita High, John Zygmunt, Lynn Butenhoff, Jim High, Jason Tomaselli, Jim Cook, Bob DeSanctis (Royal Landscaping), Mia DeBernardis, Randy Wilson (Sauquoit Rotary) and Dr. Frank Mondi.

The cost is $18.00/dinner and tickets can be purchased from New Hartford Rotary Club members or at the door on the day of the event. However, to insure you don't get left out, reserve your dinners now by buying a ticket early. Proceeds raised for this event will benefit local charities and programs. Some of the local charities New Hartford Rotary has helped in the past are Hope House, The Rescue Mission, The Veterans Outreach Center, New Hartford Public Library, New Hartford Citizens' Band, The Neighborhood Center, Your Neighbors, Inc., just to name a few. What a great way to honor all fathers, eat some great BBQ and assist the club in all we do for our community, country and the world.

Utica Streets: A Stroll Into History -Joan Klossner Wednesday June 26 - 7 PM

Please join us at the H.A.R.P. Museum in the Irish Cultural Center of the Mohawk Valley on Wednesday, June 26 at 7 PM, for a look at how Utica's streets were named.

Our presenter is Joan Klossner who became curious about the street names of Utica after she learned about a street in South Utica that bore the name of one of her ancestors, Geer Avenue. Through research using local history books and newspaper columns, she learned that the name of many Utica streets reflect the history of the area and the people who have lived here over the years. Klossner, a native of South Utica who compiled her findings into a book, Utica Streets: A Stroll into History, will relate some of the stories she included in her book.

You can attend this presentation at the H.A.R.P. Museum located on the second floor of the Irish Cultural Center of the Mohawk Valley, 623 Columbia St, Utica. All are welcome to attend this program and the museum is wheelchair accessible. This program is free, please register at this link, https://bit.ly/3UJ1ct5 or visit our events calendar at https://www. iccmv.org/my-calendar/ or leave a message at 315-733-4228 ext.6.

will be transformed into Dublin for one day on Saturday, June 15th at 4 PM, as they host their seventh annual "Bloomsday" event.

In James Joyce's monumental classic "Ulysses," June 16 is the date that the book's protagonist, Leopold Bloom, undertakes his one-day sojourn through the streets of Dublin. Since the first two-man Bloomsday celebration in 1954, that date (or as near as practicable) continues to be celebrated throughout the world, with a range of cultural activities including readings and dramatizations of scenes from the novel, (as well as the responsible partaking of adult beverages.) And this year Utica, NY, will once again play host to its own Bloomsday event.

The event will consist of a presentation of the Dublin sites visited by Bloom, each accompanied by dramatic readings by accomplished local actors and scholars, interspersed with traditional Irish music performed by the Craobh Dugan-O'Looney chapter of Comhaltas Ceoltoiri Eireann. Themeappropriate refreshments will also be available.

You can attend this presentation at the H.A.R.P. Museum located on the second floor of the Irish Cultural Center of the Mohawk Valley, 623 Columbia St, Utica. All are welcome to attend this program and the museum is wheelchair accessible. News from The Town of New Hartford Codes Department

The Codes & Zoning Department would like to remind residents in the Town to contact the Codes Office before any new construction, remodeling, or additions to existing structures commences to insure the proper use of Building Codes and Zoning Laws. Each area of the Town has different zoning requirements, which include setbacks from the front, side, and rear yard property lines, as well as square footage requirements.

Additionally, the Building Codes have changed dramatically as the State has aligned State Building Codes with the International Building Codes. These must be complied with before a Building Permit can be issued and construction begins.

Building Permits are also required for interior renovations where (plumbing, electrical, structural elements are altered, room sizes are enlarged or basements are renovated), fireplace and wood stove installations, decks (covered and uncovered), swimming pools (both in ground and above ground), storage sheds and fences. (Some fence permits may require a survey). It is the responsibility of the homeowner to contact Codes for the required inspections and to properly close out the permit.

CHICKENS

We have had numerous calls regarding whether chickens are allowed in the Town of New Hartford. Please be advised of the following:

§ 118-69Raising of livestock; animal husbandry.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY

The keeping of any domestic animals other than customary household pets, including but not limited to livestock, horses, rabbits, llamas, alpacas, chickens, ducks and turkeys and other similar animals.

A. A minimum lot size of three acres shall be required, and the property shall be located in an Agricultural (A) or Residential/Agricultural (RA) Zone.

B. The building or structure used for the stabling or keeping of livestock shall be located at least 50 feet from any property line.

C. Manure storage that has not yet been composted or spread shall be set back 150 feet from any lot line.

SWIMMING POOLS

Spring is here and now is the time for you to start thinking about that pool. Whether you are about to install one for the first time or you already have one, remember there are Codes in place for the safety of you, your family and neighborhood and these apply whether you're in an agricultural district or a residential neighborhood. All swimming pools whether they be in-ground, above-ground, portable, or hot tubs with a water depth greater than 24", are required to be guarded by a fence at least 4 feet tall or an Approved Safety Cover complying with ASTM F 1346 and equipped with an alarm. New installations require a Building Permit, third party electrical inspection, pool alarm, and a guard (fence) that provides a minimum 4 feet high barrier (other Codes may apply).

The affordability of portable pools with water depths in excess of 24" has presented the Codes Department with an unusual amount of violations in the past. In most cases, these portable pools present more of a threat to the safety of our youth than larger pools.

Please be wary of the manufacturer's warnings and consult with our department before installing.

Think SAFE! Swimming Alarms Fencing Electricity.

GARAGE SALE SIGNS/PERMITS

Please note that posting garage sale signs on/in public rights-of-way, especially utility poles, etc. are prohibited. Signs may be placed on the homeowner's lawn only. If signs are placed on utility poles or posted in public rights-of-way, the signs will be removed.

Also, all Town residents who are planning to have a garage sale must get a permit from the Town Clerk's Office. The permits are free and can be obtained at the Town of New Hartford Office at 315-733-7500, Ext. 2323.

Your New Hartford Volunteer Fire Department responded to 117 alarms during the month of April 2024 as indicated by the monthly call report listed below by category:

Fires	=	0
EMS	=	62
Hazardous	=	15
Service Type	=	10
Good Intent	=	8
False Alarms	=	22
Overpressure	=	0
Mutual Aid	=	0
Weather Related	=	0
Other	=	0
Total Calls for the Month of April

Total Calls for the Month of April 2024 = 117.

Of the 117 alarms, 103 were in the town and 14 were in the village. There were no mutual aid alarms during the month of April.

Total alarms year-to-date through April 30, 2024, = 451.

Some of the calls listed above - such as Fires, EMS, and Hazardous - are selfexplanatory. Others such as Service, Good Intent and Other Alarms are not. Service Calls include water or animal problems, public assistance or standbys. Good Intent refers to responding but did not find anything or canceled in route. Other alarms include explosions, carbon monoxide, smoke or sprinkler detector activations.

The figures above do not include other activities by members of the department such as Fire Prevention details, training, parades, Open House and other various department committee meetings that take place throughout the year.

In Other Department News: Can We Find You in An Emergency?

The Chief and members of The New Hartford Volunteer Fire Department would like to remind everyone that is always important to have our address clearly marked.

In the first four months of 2024, the New Hartford Volunteer Fire Department has responded to 451 alarms for assistance. Over half of these alarms were calls for medical emergencies. The great increase in activity at the firehouse both days and nights is due to an increase in our community population and businesses within our fire district. It is estimated that at any given time, there can be over 15,000 shoppers and others passing through our community daily.

During an emergency, being able to have the Fire Department, Emergency Medical Services (E.M.S.), and Police Department find your house or business quickly is important. If there is no number on your house, mailbox, or business, critical time is lost. A difference in minutes can mean the difference to a positive outcome in an emergency. NHFD is equipped with many tools to help arrival time. Some of these tools are text messaging and radio transmissions of the call address, some others are maps and computers with GPS of our fire district. However, clearly affixed house or business numbers are imperative for us to get to the exact scene in a timely manner.

We have observed recently some properties are not clearly marked with any numbers at all. Additionally, many residents overlook the fact that street numbers attached to the front of the house, or business, are often obstructed by landscaping or even impossible to see clearly at night.

So, you may be wondering, what are some of the recommendations for house or business numbers? How small is too small? What about colors? The following are some of the basic recommendations:

Must be Arabic numerals. Fancy numbers or numbers that are spelled out may be aesthetically pleasing but are very difficult to read quickly from the street. They should be displayed horizontally as well.

Need to be a minimum of four (4) inches high and in a contrasting color to their immediate background. Brass or bronze numbers are difficult to see in the day to nighttime. A reflective type of material would be a great consideration as well.

NHFD Holds American Red Cross Blood Drive

The New Hartford Volunteer Fire Department will host an American Red Cross Blood Drive on Thursday, June 27, 2024, from 1pm to 5pm at the fire station. Reservations may be made by calling 1-800-RED CROS (1-800-733-2767). Reservations are appreciated and walk-ins are always welcome.

Are your Personal Biases Derailing your Investment Goals?

Your investment portfolio may need variety to help fit your needs. Too much of one kind of asset, or too little, and you're likely to find yourself without the pieces that can potentially help you meet your long-term financial goals.

The trick is to guard against making decisions based on trends or biases you might not be aware you have. Tracie McMillion, head of Global Asset Allocation for Wells Fargo Investment Institute, took a closer look at some of the biases that can cloud your thinking:

Identify your biases

Even savvy and knowledgeable investors can be blind to their own biases - tendencies that can thwart smart decision-making. Common investment biases include:

Sector bias. All too often, professionals gravitate toward stocks in industries that they're most familiar with. Doctors, for instance, may load up on health care stocks.

• Risk: You may lose out on potential earnings in other industries and unduly expose yourself to downturns in industry-specific markets.

• Consideration: The key is to diversify among sectors. Work with your investment professionals to gain an understanding of how assets in various sectors may potentially help a portfolio perform better as a whole over the long term.

Company bias. From favoring a family business to maintaining too much loyalty to a long-time employer, this bias can weigh down a portfolio with one company's stock.

• Risk: Sinking too much of your retirement savings into one brand can leave you exposed to company-specific volatility risk that can be sizable. It can even expose your portfolio to the possibility that that one company may cease to exist.

• Consideration: Diversification may potentially help buffer the effects of severe problems at an individual company level.

Bias toward recent events. Called "recency bias," this tendency relates to how investors respond to everyday market activity. With investment information and the news of national and international events at our fingertips 24/7, many of us are very tuned in to what's happening in the world — and in the financial markets.

As human beings, we tend to project what has just happened into the future, reacting to upward and downward trends by buying and selling stocks as if yesterday's good or bad news will continue into the future.

• Risk: Letting short-term news drive your investment lecisions could cause you to abandon your personalized long-term investment plan.

Some additional caveats

In addition to these biases, we see other habits and attitudes that can affect our clients' portfolios. You may not be susceptible to all of these tendencies, but being aware of them can help keep your investment strategy on track:

• Overconfidence. Do you think you can beat the Street? Striving to micromanage your portfolio stock-by-stock or trying to outsmart the market in a short time frame is a common, but often flawed, tactic in our view. Instead, trust your plan and don't try to anticipate short-term market movements.

• Aversion to loss. Is there an asset you just can't bear to sell because it has lost value? Well, with each passing day, you could be putting off the inevitable, and in our view, you may be robbing yourself of access to investment dollars that could be working for you elsewhere. Ask yourself if it's time to move on.

• Anchoring. This tactic comes into play when you hold on to an investment because you are comparing its current value to a reference value, such as a top-dollar price point from the past. Anchoring thinking might go something like this: "I just want the stock price to return to the high it hit two years ago before I sell." But by mooring yourself to a potentially unrealistic expectation, you may find that your investment plan doesn't move forward.

• Favoritism in asset classes. Are you showing preference for one type of asset over others? Do you have "rules" against investing in certain asset types? Showing favoritism may unnecessarily exclude a choice including a new investment strategy — that could serve you well. Our goal is to help clients make their investment plans personal without allowing such unintentional biases and tendencies to creep in. The overall solution comes back to self-control during volatile times. Work with your investment team to maintain objectivity, manage risk, and stay focused on long-term goals rather than toward shortterm investment — or emotional — rewards.

More about creating your personal investing philosophy To help provide focus and direction, every investor should consider establishing a personal investment philosophy. For couples, the philosophy statement should reflect their mutual investment goals and their unified strategy as a household.

Here's a short list of action items that can get you started on formulating your personal investment strategy.

• Determine how much cash you need to hold to your commitment to your long-term investment plan. Before and during retirement, you may need to tap cash holdings to pay for living expenses, emergencies, or other major planned expenses, such as a son's or daughter's wedding. We call the amount of cash that you may need to access "your sleep-well number" — the figure that may allow you to feel more at ease regarding your investment plan.

· Commit to diversification of your investments. Not to sound repetitive, but this tactic can help you deal with market ups and downs. Just as you need an overcoat in winter and a swimsuit in summer, various assets simply tend to perform better during different economic cycles. So position yourself for different financial seasons with a diversified combination of fixed income, equity holdings, real assets, and alternative investment strategies.

• Actively manage risk. Don't forget to revisit and rebalance your portfolio about once a year and when you experience a major life event. Reallocation can help your portfolio stay on plan and reduce risk or enhance return potential when markets have moved significantly.

• Weave goals into your overall plan. Many investors making their world a better place. To understand how you spend your investment dollars, consider asking a financial advisor to run screens on your complete portfolio, including investments, charitable trusts, and asset transfers. Then collaborate on any adjustments needed to help the overarching investment plan operate within your customized preferences.

Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile. Stocks may fluctuate in response to general economic and market conditions, the prospects of individual companies, and industry sectors. Foreign investing has additional risks including those associated with currency fluctuation, political and economic instability, and different accounting standards. These risks are heightened in emerging and frontier markets.

Equity securities are subject to market risk, which means their value may fluctuate in response to general economic and market conditions and the perception of individual issuers. Investments in equity securities are generally more volatile than other types of securities.

Investments in fixed-income securities are subject to market, interest rate, credit and other risks. Bond prices fluctuate inversely to changes in interest rates. Therefore, a general rise in interest rates can cause a bond's price to fall. Credit risk is the risk that an issuer will default on payments of interest and/or principal. This risk is heightened in lower rated bonds. If sold prior to maturity, fixed income securities are subject to market risk. All fixed income investments may be worth less than their original cost upon redemption or maturity.

Asset allocation and diversification are investment methods used to help manage risk. They do not guarantee investment returns or eliminate risk of loss including in a declining market. All investing involves risk including the possible loss of principal.

There are special risks associated with an investment in real estate, including the possible illiquidity of the underlying properties, credit risk, interest rate fluctuations, and the impact of varied economic conditions.

Alternative investments, such as hedge funds, funds of hedge funds, managed futures, private capital, real assets and real estate funds, are not appropriate for all investors. They are speculative, highly illiquid, and are designed for long-term investment, and not as trading vehicle. These funds carry specific investor qualifications which can include high income and net-worth requirements as well as relatively high investment minimums. The high expenses associated with alternative investments must be offset by trading profits and other income which may not be realized. Unlike mutual funds, alternative investments are not subject to some of the regulations designed to protect investors and are not required to provide the same level of disclosure as would be received from a mutual fund. They trade in diverse complex strategies that are affected in different ways and at different times by changing market conditions. Strategies may, at times, be out of market favor for considerable periods with adverse consequences for the fund and the investor. An investment in these funds involve the risks inherent in an investment in securities and can include losses associated with speculative investment practices, including hedging and leveraging through derivatives, such as futures, options, swaps, short selling, investments in non-U.S. securities, "junk" bonds and illiquid investments. The use of leverage in a portfolio varies by strategy. Leverage can significantly increase return potential but create greater risk of loss. At times, a fund may be unable to sell certain of its illiquid investments without a substantial drop in price, if at all. Other risks can include those associated with potential lack of diversification, restrictions on transferring interests, no available secondary market, complex tax structures, delays in tax reporting, valuation of securities and pricing. An investment in a fund of funds carries additional risks including asset-based fees and expenses at the fund level and indirect fees, expenses and asset-based compensation of investment funds in which these funds invest. An investor should review the private who have significant resources also have aspirations of placement memorandum, subscription agreement and other related offering materials for complete information regarding terms, including all applicable fees, as well as the specific risks associated with a fund before investing. • Consideration: Self-discipline. Work with your financial team to create a personal investment philosophy statement - and stick to it. This customized strategy should account for your desired asset mix, risk preferences, liquidity needs, and time horizon. And it can help you keep your cool when the headlines start to heat up.

Home country bias. Investors - be they American, Italian, or Brazilian - typically feel most comfortable when they choose to invest in companies headquartered in their home countries. After all, they're usually the companies that such investors read about in local or national media and the companies that they do business with as consumers most often.

• Risk: Home country bias may translate to missed investment opportunities. Heavy reliance on U.S. stocks, bonds, and real estate can keep you from expanding your investment strategy to take advantage of global investment opportunities.

• Consideration: We believe it's a good idea to see to it that most of your assets have some global component. And remember that while currency exchange rates may introduce risks to your portfolio, they also may pave the

SEWER AND DRAIN BACK UP:

Sewer overflow or drain back-ups can present a more technical approach to the clean- up due to the contaminates involved. Porous, semi-porous building materials and contents will generally involve removal when affected by sewage while hard surface framing lumber can generally be cleaned and sanitized unless the travel of sewage requires removal of this lumber for proper cleaning. Disaster Services will handle all phases of this type job and guarantee professional results. We are proud to say we have handled hundreds of these losses with 100 percent client satisfaction.

Disaster Services is a NYS licensed mold contractor and can evaluate and thoroughly explain the different removal options available to you and also help guide you after the mold has been removed with suggestions to avoid another occurrence. When required, we also offer air quality and testing services. Several factors can influence a mold growth in a basement or attic area. Basements with finished walls are susceptible to moisture intrusion at the ground level. Trapped moisture due to lack of air flow between the finished wall and the exterior foundation wall is an ideal environment to facilitate mold growth. A dark appearance showing on the face of the finished wall should be investigated further. Unfinished basement will typically show signs of mold growth at the base of the foundation spreading upwards over time. Although there are a few different reasons this particular area of the structure is problematic, ground water seepage along with lack of air flow and improper dehumidification are generally the cause.

Historic St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in New Hartford is celebrating its 200th birthday in 2024

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, whose roots go back to New Hartford founder Jedediah Sanger, is celebrating its bicentennial in 2024.

The congregation is making this 200th year a celebration of gratitude for God and for our faithful ancestors and our present-day community of worship and fellowship that supports community endeavors such as Ashes To Go on Ash Wednesday.

Prayers and events this year are focused on reflecting on our roots while looking to the future as St. Stephen's begins a third 100 years ministering to our people, to our community and to our world.

The centerpiece of the bicentennial year celebration is a Celebration of Gratitude Service starting at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 2nd, gathering at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 25 Oxford Road, New Hartford.

All are invited with a special outreach to those who have any connection with St. Stephen's: parishioners, former parishioners, former clergy, local faith communities of all types, former members of St. Mark's Episcopal, St. George's Episcopal, St. John' Episcopal churches, our neighbors in New Hartford and Greater Utica Masonic families (there at our beginning) members of any group who holds meetings at St. Stephen's people who were married or baptized at the church

There will be photos to remember our history -who we were (and are), what we have done, how we have celebrated and mourned, learned and taught and honored our faith.

This reunion will be a true celebration of sharing, listening, rekindling our faith and fellowship- and, of course, a Birthday cake!

Parking is available at St. Stephen's behind the church, or next door at the Freidel, Williams and Edmunds Funeral Home lot.

Background About St. Stephen's history:

The congregation got its start when the Rev. Amos Cotton Treadway visited his sister in New Hartford in June 1824 from his home in Virginia. He found people of faith wanting to have a familiar Episcopal faith community yet missing a clergy leader. Rev. Treadway offered services starting in early July 1824. Without a church building, they were hosted and gathered in the local Masonic Hall and the Presbyterian Church to say Morning and Evening Prayers.

By September 1824, St. Stephen's Church had come into being, with New Hartford founder Jedediah Sanger serving as one of the original vestry members. A centennial booklet prepared at St. Stephen's in 1924 describes Sanger as instrumental in the church's founding and as a staunch friend in its early history. He purchased the lot on which St. Stephen's stands in 1825 for $150 and contributed $2,000+ to the building fund, then a hefty sum.

"Our little band, like an army clad with strength, have pushed their pious purpose till victory has crowned the mighty effort", the Rev. Treadway, who became the church's first rector, wrote upon completion of the building.

St. Stephen's has been blessed with the leadership of 36 rectors and countless laypeople over 200 years, with the Rev. Kathlyn Schofield currently serving as rector. Our current parish family is grateful for all of our ancestors. They did what was theirs to do. May we now do what it is ours to do.
